Important Information About Procedures for Opening an Account

To help the government fight the funding of terrorism and money laundering activities, Federal law requires all financial institutions to obtain, verify and record information that identifies each customer who opens an account, and to determine whether such person's name appears on government lists of known or suspected terrorists or terrorist organizations.

Weitz Funds must obtain the customer's name, date of birth (for individuals), taxpayer identification number and physical residence address (no post office boxes) for each customer who opens an account.

C. Cost Basis

Please select one of the following cost basis methods. Your election will be used when calculating the gain or loss for all future sales of shares acquired on or after January 1, 2012, for all accounts established by this application and any future accounts unless a different method is provided. If no election is made, Weitz Funds' default cost basis method of Average Cost will be applied to your account(s).

- Average Cost (ACST): uses the average price of shares as the cost basis. This is the default cost basis accounting method for Weitz
- First-In First-Out (FIFO): oldest shares in account are redeemed first.
- Last-In First-Out (LIFO): newest shares in the account are redeemed first.
- High-Cost First-Out (HIFO): the shares with the highest cost are redeemed first.
- Low-Cost First-Out (LOFO): the shares with the lowest cost are redeemed first.
- Loss/Gain Utilization (LGUT): this method looks to realize losses before gains, with the objective of minimizing taxes when shares are redeemed.
- Specific Lot Identification (SLID): assumes specific shares in an account will be selected by the shareholder each time shares are redeemed. A secondary cost basis method is required and will be used in the event of any automated transactions, or for a redemption placed without specific lot identification. (If you do not elect a secondary method, you will be defaulted to First-In First-Out).
