Example

This example is intended to help you compare the cost of investing in the Fund with the cost of investing in other mutual funds. The example assumes that you invest $10,000 in the Fund for the periods indicated and then redeem in full at the end of each of the periods indicated. The example also assumes that your investment has a 5% return each year and the Fund's operating expenses remain the same each year.

Although your actual costs may be higher or lower, based on these assumptions your costs would be:

1 year	3 years	5 years	10 years
$126	$393	$681	$1,500

Portfolio Turnover

The Fund pays transactions costs, such as commissions, when it buys and sells securities (or "turns over" its portfolio). A higher portfolio turnover rate may indicate higher transaction costs and may result in higher taxes when Fund shares are held in a taxable account. These costs, which are not reflected in annual Fund operating expenses or in the example, affect the Fund's performance. During the most recent fiscal year, the Fund's portfolio turnover rate was 20% of the average value of the portfolio.

Principal Investment Strategies

The Fund's investment strategy (which we call "value investing") is based on our belief that stock prices fluctuate around the true value of a company. The Fund invests the majority of its assets in the common stock of smaller and medium sized companies. Currently, the Fund considers smaller and medium sized companies to be issuers with a market capitalization of less than $10 billion at the time of initial purchase. The Fund may invest in securities issued by non-U.S. companies, which securities may be denominated in U.S. dollars or foreign currencies. As part of the Fund's strategy, the Fund may concentrate its investments in securities of relatively few issuers.

We seek to identify the securities of growing, well-managed businesses which have honest, competent management. We then estimate the price that an informed, rational buyer would pay for 100% of the business (i.e., the private market value). At the heart of the process is an estimate of the value today of the right to receive all of the cash that a business will generate for its owners in the future. The valuation may focus on asset values, earnings power and the intangible value of a company's "franchise" in its market or a combination of these variables, depending on the nature of the business.

The Fund then tries to buy shares of the company's stock at a significant discount to this "private market value." We invest with a multiple-year time horizon. The Fund anticipates that the stock price will rise as the value of the business grows and as the valuation discount narrows. Ideally the business value grows and the stock continues to trade at a discount for long periods of time. We generally will sell these stocks as they approach or exceed our estimate of private market value.

We do not try to "time" the market. However, if there is cash available for investment and there are not securities that meet the Fund's investment criteria, the Fund may invest without limitation in high-quality cash and cash equivalents such as U.S. Government securities or government money market fund shares. In the event that the Fund takes such a temporary defensive position, it may not be able to achieve its investment objective during this temporary period.

Principal Investment Risks

You should be aware that an investment in the Fund involves certain risks, including, among others, the following:

- Market Risk As with any other mutual fund, the share price of the Fund will fluctuate daily depending on general market conditions and other factors. You may lose money if you invest in the Fund.
- Investment in Undervalued Securities Undervalued securities are, by definition, out of favor with investors, and there is no way to predict when, if ever, the securities may return to favor. Therefore, investors should purchase shares of the Fund only if they intend to be patient, long-term investors.
- Concentrated Portfolio Risk Because the Fund invests in relatively few holdings, a larger percentage of its assets may be invested in a particular issuer or in fewer companies than is typical of other mutual funds. This may increase volatility. The Fund will be more susceptible to adverse economic, political, regulatory or market developments affecting a single issuer.
- Medium Company Risk Securities of medium capitalization companies may be subject to greater price volatility and lower trading volumes than securities of larger companies. Because these companies frequently rely on narrower product lines and niche markets, they can suffer isolated setbacks.

- Smaller Company Risk Smaller capitalization companies may not have the size, resources or other assets of larger capitalization companies. The prices of such issuers can fluctuate more than the stocks of larger companies and they may not necessarily correspond to changes in the stock market in general.

- Non-U.S. Securities Risk The Fund may invest in securities issued by non-U.S. issuers, which securities may be denominated in U.S. dollars or foreign currencies. Investments in non-U.S. securities may involve additional risks including exchange rate fluctuation, political or economic instability, the imposition of exchange controls, expropriation, limited disclosure and illiquid markets.

- Failure to Meet Investment Objective There can be no assurance that the Fund will meet its investment objective.

Your investment in the Fund is not a bank deposit and is not insured nor guaranteed by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC) or any other governmental agency.

Performance

The following chart and table provides an indication of the risks of investing in the Fund by showing changes in the Fund's performance from year to year over the period indicated and by showing how the Fund's average annual total returns for the periods indicated, both before and after taxes, compared to those of relevant broad-based securities market indices. The Russell 2500 Index, the Fund's primary benchmark, measures the performance of the small to mid-cap segment of the U.S. equity market. The Standard & Poor's 500 Index is generally representative of the market for the stocks of large-size U.S. companies. All Fund performance numbers are calculated after deducting fees and expenses, and all numbers assume reinvestment of dividends. Total returns shown include fee waivers and expense reimbursements, if any; total returns would have been lower had there been no waivers and/or reimbursements. The Fund's past performance is not necessarily an indication of how the Fund will perform in the future both before and after taxes. Updated performance information is available at weitzinvestments.com or by calling us toll-free at 800-304-9745.

After-tax returns are calculated using the historical highest individual federal marginal income tax rates and do not reflect the impact of state and local taxes. Actual after-tax returns depend on an investor's tax situation and may differ from those shown. In some instances, the return after taxes may be greater than the return before taxes because you are assumed to be able to use the capital loss on the sale of Fund shares to offset other taxable gains. After-tax returns shown are not relevant to investors who hold their Fund shares through tax-deferred arrangements, such as a 401(k) account or individual retirement account (IRA).

Payments to Broker-Dealers and Other Financial Intermediaries

If you purchase the Fund through a broker-dealer or other financial intermediary (such as a financial adviser), the Fund and/or its investment adviser may pay the intermediary a fee to compensate them for the services it provides, which may include performing sub-accounting services, delivering Fund documents to shareholders and providing information about the Fund. These payments may create a conflict of interest by influencing the financial intermediary and your salesperson to recommend the Fund over another investment. Ask your salesperson or visit your financial intermediary's website for more information.
